Large Anticipations.

Conversing with an intelligent citizen of Fall River a day or two since, he expressed to us his conviction that the time was not far distant in the future, when that city would become a great commercial depot for New York and Boston. The theory, which is by no means a new one—is this: The two great cities last named, are becoming, in a commercial as well as a social point of view, overstocked, and the time is drawing nigh when there will not be room in their warehouses to deposit the immense stocks of goods which the merchants find it necessary to keep constantly on hand, in order to be able to supply the country trade at short notice, and to any extent required. Now while land in New York and Boston is held at such prices that it takes almost as many dollars to buy a foot as would cover it in silver, in Fall River there is plenty of it and held at a reasonable price, while the shores of the latter city are admirably adapted, for an extent of four miles, to wharfage purposes, and its waters are of sufficient depth to admit vessels of the largest class. The arrangement will be, they tell us, to transport goods from ports in Europe by steamer to Fall River, where, in large warehouses constructed to receive them, they will be stored till wanted in New York or Boston, and then transported thither by steamer or railroad, as the case may be. We ventured to suggest Newport as a much more favorable point, from its superior advantages of accessibility. The gentleman admitted that were Newport connected with Boston by a continuous iron rail, it would doubtless be the point decided on: but such a connection did not now exist, and judging from present appearances, never would, as there were difficulties in the way which the people here would not have the courage to surmount.

Although this may be regarded in the light of pretty extensive castle-building on the part of our Fall River friends, yet the thing is by no means impossible, nor yet improbable, though we regard it as far more likely to be realized in the case of our own city than Fall River. Indeed, with a railroad from here to Boston, we might confidently count upon some such arrangement being entered into almost immediately. In confirmation of this, it is said that in the year 1860, the value of several cargoes of merchandise on board vessels which made a harbor in Newport, but which were lost in the passage from here to Boston, would, could those cargoes have been discharged here and taken to Boston by railroad, been sufficient to have built and stocked a vessel from here to Fall River. The advantage which this port possesses over Fall River in this respect is that whereas steamers would be needed to ensure rapidity of transportation up the river to Fall River, still vessels can at all times enter this port with perfect safety. Vessels enter it well known, make their berths when they cannot any other on the coast, and can lay here with the greatest ease and safety. Thus, a ship, having lost her cargo, could discharge her cargo here, take another transported higher by steamship from New York or railroad from Boston, and be ready for sea, in the time she might be waiting here for a favorable wind to proceed, at an expense to the owners far greater than would be that of transporting the freight to and from Boston or New York, besides diminishing the risk to the vessel and cargo.

Mr. Edmund Thompson, of Bridgeport, Conn., has caught in a trap, an American Eagle, the largest size—measuring 8 feet and 1 inch from tip to tip of the wings. It is said to be a magnificent specimen.

LOCAL.

MR. HAZARD'S PAMPHLET ABROAD.—We clip the following from the Boston Transcript of the 26th inst. It certainly shows that the work which is now "all the talk" in this State, has created quite a sensation abroad:

About a year ago a most worthy citizen of the little State of Rhode Island published a pamphlet on a law case which has "exercised" the people of Newport and Providence greatly, the last three years—that of Ives vs. Hazard. There were some keen home-thrusts in the tract; the writer is fearless as he is honest, and he cares for neither wealth nor judicial pretensions, if he can only make the truth appear. In reply to this hazardous attack, there came out what purported to be a report of the said case, with a few annotations, and, among the latter, the author of the expose, before mentioned, was stigmatized as a monomaniac. How unfortunately, in this land of liberty, we have no regular Commission of Inquiry, and every man charged with being of unsound mind is bound to prove himself not so. Dr. Johnson used to say that no man is wholly sane; but Mr. Thomas R. Hazard, in his reply just published,—being number two of his strictures on the aforesaid case of Ives vs. Hazard,—certainly shows that, if mad, there is an extraordinary method in his madness. We advise all those interested in the study of the law, its administration in Rhode Island; or in the study of human nature—Providence human nature, in particular—to read this vigorous commentary, by a lover of justice, on the law, evidence, legislation, and personal conduct involved in this case.

The pamphlet is entitled "A Letter addressed to Robert H. Ives, in reply to his published statements in relation to the Case in Equity Ives vs. Hazard;" it is published by Geo. T. Hartmann, Newport, R. I. Whatever may be the opinions of individuals on the merits of the particular questions at issue, there are some documentary evidences of meanness, malice, chicanery and corruption, which deserve and challenge explanation—and, if possible, refutation—for they are intimately blended with the welfare of society and the reputation of prominent men, as well as the administration of justice and the claims of Christian civilization. It is a tangled web, but Mr. T. R. Hazard seems determined to unravel it, and he has become the voluntary expositor of the matter—from no personal interest, but from the love of justice and a laudable sense of public duty. Independent of other attractions, the new pamphlet is a curious chapter in the social life of Rhode Island, and piquant illustration of the process of buying, selling land, transferring titles and deeds, arbitrating, etc., in the city of Newport.

LECTURE BY REV. MR. BROWN.—Rev. Mr. Brown, of Zion Church, will deliver the eighth lecture of the course before the Newport Musical Institute, in Narragansett Hall, next Monday evening. Such is Mr. Brown's reputation as a literary man and a speaker, that we feel no assurance the community will need no urging to attend the lecture Monday night.

MR. EDITOR:—We were very much pleased with the poetical effusion, descriptive of a scene in India—which appeared in the Daily News of Wednesday. The production reflected much credit to the writer; and we hope your columns will be frequently enriched from the same intellectual depository.

RAINY FRIDAYS.—It has now rained for four consecutive Fridays, yesterday being the fourth.

Moral.—Don't project a lecture or a concert for a Friday night.

POSTPONED.—The lecture to have been given by George Brewerton, Esq., before Hercules Engine Co. No. 7 last evening, was postponed, on account of the unpropitious appearance of the weather, to Thursday evening of next week.

MASONIC.—The installation of the Officers of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, will take place on Monday evening, Jan. 31st, at 7 P. M.—and the supper at 9 P. M. The tickets for the supper—admitting a Brother of the Order and two ladies, will be $1 25—to be had at Tilley's.

BEAUTIFUL OPERATION.—The mail from Boston hence yesterday morning, was returned to this Post Office yesterday afternoon, unopened. Thus we had a mail from Boston yesterday, and yet we didn't. This is the third time, at least, that this has been done within two months, and that Boston Post Office should be presented with an elaborate leather medal.

LECTURE BY REV. MR. LYON.—Rev. Mr. Lyon, of the South Methodist Church, will lecture before Hercules Engine Co. No. 7, on Monday evening of next week, at their hall on Howard street.

There will be service in the Mill Street Church, to-morrow evening, at 7 o'clock.

A prize fight, for $1,000, came off recently, on Point island, Tex., between an American and a Spaniard. They fought 31 rounds in two hours and ten minutes, when the Spaniard succumbed to the cups for powers of the American. This is a cheering proof of the rapid progress of the Lone Star State in the fine arts.

J. H. Bancroft and a friend were crossing the Merrimac river, at Amesbury, on Friday, when the ice gave way, and the swift current carried their boat and slings under the river, nearly sweeping by, clinging to broken pieces of ice. Mr. Bancroft saved nothing from his traps except the whip in his hand.

A most villainous attempt at poisoning was made on the family of Wm. Collins, formerly Senator from Rock Creek, Md., Decr. 15th, 1858. Arsenic was put into a pot of oysters, and fourteen persons sick or lost property by eating it.

The late Senator Benton said that the author was a good engineer, and always took the best country and the easiest route. The captain and Mr. B. have already indicated the central route for a railroad to the Pacific.

The editor of the Medina Gazette tells of a skunk being captured in a house by a dog, with the usual result of disgust to the visitors. The terrible result was neutralized by burning tar upon live coals of fire, by which the air was purified as if by magic.

have the answer to the question Where are the vessels? It will be noticed that a large majority of coasters that have made a harbor here during the month or two past, have been vessels trading between Boston and Southern ports, with now and then one in the New York trade.

TWENTY-SIXTH MUSIC CLASS.—This class, under the tuition of Dr. Wood, is rapidly drawing to its close. We believe that every one who has been present at its meetings for the last two weeks, has been well pleased. The class has numbered one hundred; and yet, large as it is, the good order, kindly feeling, and anxious, determined effort, on the part of all, has been remarkable. The criticisms have been close, faithful, yet have been received with a strong desire for improvement.

Occasionally have a few visitors been present; and it has been by them noticed, that the scholars did the singing, without the assistance, for the time being, of the teacher; that the exercise, or tune, was turned, the tone and time given, and although the music was never before seen, yet, when the word "to sing" was given, off moved the four parts, the teacher either remaining silent, or simply calling time. It has been both gratifying and surprising to perceive in this way the knowledge possessed by the members of the class.

But we began this article for the purpose of saying, that if persons outside of the present class wish to become members of a class under Dr. Wood's tuition, they can do so, by calling at the City Music Store, as he will organize another class directly. See advertisement.

XXXVTH CONGRESS.
SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Jan. 26.

The Senate refused to admit Messrs. Lane and McCarthy, the claimants of the Indiana seat, to the privilege of the floor. All the remaining amendments to the Pacific Railroad bill were lost, and the final vote will be taken 27th.

In the House, a report was made adverse to the bill permitting creditors to sue the Government in the Court of Claims. A bill was reported to punish forgery of land warrants. A joint resolution, instructing the Government to procure from foreign countries a modification of their revenue systems in respect to American tobacco, with a view to the removal of present restrictions, was passed. The Homestead bill, introduced by Mr. Kellogg of New York, was referred to the Committee of the Whole. Mr. Gove urged the force of Gen. Jackson's principle, that the public lands should be dedicated to the use of actual settlers, and gave notice that he should ask a vote to-morrow. The consideration of the Consular and Diplomatic bill was resumed in Committee. The pending amendment, forbidding the expenditure for the support and education of the recaptured Africans, was rejected. Mr. Crawford of Georgia, then moved that the appropriations for this purpose be cut down from $15,000 to $45,000. An exciting debate followed. The Fire-Eaters denounced the President for his conduct in the matter of the Echo, and stigmatized all acts of Congress in suppression of the Slave-trade as unconstitutional and impudent piracy to their constituents. "Conservative" Southerners took a more moderate, if less logical view of the general question. Northern Democrats and Virginians cried, "Softly; softly; not just now. Wait till the question is properly before us." Finally, the clause making an appropriation to enable the President to carry out his contract with the Colonization Society, was stricken out. The subject will be re-opened when the bill comes before the House.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

THURSDAY, Jan. 27.

Senate.

Mr. Thurston, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported back the petition of William P. Salisbury to adopt child; which was read and passed.

Mr. Greene, from the Committee on Finance, to which was referred the report of the Quartermaster General, reported the same back, recommending the concurrence of the Senate in the allowance of certain bills; which recommendation was adopted.

Mr. Eames presented the petition of Philip A. Doyle for discharge of recognizance; which was received and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Eames presented the petition of Henry Northrup; which was read and passed.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION. PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution, established by special endowment for the relief of the sick and distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic diseases.

The Howard Association, in view of the want of destruction of human life, caused by sexual diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their consulting Surgeon, as a Charitable Act worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of disease in all their form and to give Medical Advice gratis, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.) and in cases of extreme poverty to furnish Medicines free of charge. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The Directors of the Association, in their annual report upon the treatment of sexual diseases, for the year ending July 1st, 1859, express the highest satisfaction with the success which has attended the labors of the consulting surgeon in the cure of Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Impotence, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, the vice of Onanism or self abuse, &c., and order a continuance of the same plan for the ensuing year.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort, have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal to this very important but much despised cause.

An admirable Report on Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, the vice of Onanism, Masturbation or Self Abuse, and other Diseases of the Sexual Organs, by the Consulting Surgeon, which will be sent by mail, (in a sealed envelope,) free of charge, on the receipt of two stamps for postage.

Address, for Report of treatment, Dr. George R. Caulfield, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 28th South street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors.

GEORGE D. HEATHWELL, President GEO. FAIRCHILD, Secretary.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

Dr. DUPONT's Golden Periodical Pills for Females. Perfectly harmless, yet wonderfully and so usefully efficacious in correcting regurgitation, and removing all obstruction from whatever cause.

All medical men know, as well as many others, that no female can enjoy good health, unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health begins immediately to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many complications among young females. Headache, Pain in the Side, Palpitation of the Heart, Lethargy of Food, and Disturbed Sleep, do most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the pills will invariably remedy all these evils; and may always be used successfully as a preventive.—Price $1 per box. For sale at 182 Thames street, corner Church-st. and at 12 Washington-street, opposite State House. Order for the trade so addressed will be supplied at lowest manufacturer's prices. Ladies, by enclosing $1 to STURGIS & CO., Box 801, Newport Post Office, can have the pills sent confidentially by mail to any part of the city or country.

STEAM! STEAM! STEAM!

J. L. & C. A. HAZARD.

The Masters, Wizards are satisfied that with

they can furnish every article in their line cheap enough to make it an object to ship their goods to the larger cities, and certainly articles of their manufacture have always given general satisfaction wherever they have been sent.

Newport, Feb. 20, 1858.

Improved Fire and Water Proof

Felt and Composition Roofs.

THE subscribers would respectfully call the attention of persons building, or about to build, to the above composition, which they have used to the entire satisfaction of many persons in this community who have lately put roofs upon old, as well as new buildings of every description. These roofs have been pronounced by Architects, Builders, and others who have a knowledge of their merits, to be of greater durability, and to be possessed of fire and resisting properties to an extent beyond that of any roof now in use.

"The materials of which these roofs are composed are not affected by temperature. They will not expand or contract with heat and cold. Like roots of iron or tin. The cost is much less than any other fire proof roof in use. They are not affected by the heat of machinery. In case of injury, no roof is so easily and cheaply repaired."

We not only state these facts, but can substantiate them, by referring to those who have patronized us for the last two years, and would request all those who are about to put on new roofs, either to new or old houses, to call upon us before looking elsewhere, when we think they will be satisfied that we can furnish them with the best roof in the country.
